19th century barrel back armchair

Sold

Description

An English 19th century barrel back armchair of country house proportions. Raise on carved ball and claw mahogany legs to the front and out swept to the rear, all with brass casters.

Slight movement in the frame as can be expected with a chair of this age however it does sit firm and is very comfortable. The fabric is presentable and I think it quite suits the chair.

As with all our upholstered seating, we do offer upholstery should you wish. Please get in touch to find out more.

An old but sound repair to the back leg.
