Description

A well drawn 19th century armchair by Holland & Sons - London, English c1860. Raised on turned Rosewood front legs and splayed rear legs. The right rear leg bearing the the Holland maker mark and address. All the legs with nicely figured Rosewood grain and all retain the original Cope & Collinson brass casters. The chair is shown here in a good quality green floral silk fabric with tasselled trim around the bottom edge and Positano fringe around the fixed in feather and down seat cushion. Structurally in good solid order with clean 'as new' fabric ready for use. As with all our upholstered seating we do offer upholstery should you wish. 42cm seat height
