Large antique pine pine kitchen table

Sold

Description

A rather large early 19th century kitchen prep table. Very heavy and sturdy construction. The top is well weathered old oak planks which I believe are a replacement for the original. The top shows signs of a historic repair to a crack which I can have repaired by my professional antiques restorer if you wish. Personally I think it tells the story of the tables history. There are signs of worm holes here and there but nothing major and they are historic. The table has been treated none the less.

Although a little tight on the knee height this table could be used as a kitchen dining table and will seat 8 people. I have used a chair for scale!
