Antique painted pine table

Description

Early 19th century side table constructed in pine, very elegant tapered legs, useful little drawer with brass handles and echelon. The faux mahogany graining is exceptional! I like how the dove trail joint are visible to the drawer front. Nice and tall this table would make a perfect little desk. It does appear a little lop sided but no gaps in the joints suggest it's always been this way. A characterful little table!

80cm high
80cm wide
