Description

french bistro table from the last quarter of the 19th century.

This table has a really good look and could be used both in the garden or indoors as a side table.

Very heavy cast iron base. The top has great patina.

It has the mark XVI etched into the base. I'm not sure what meaning it is. It's probably a batch number or alike but it is intriguing none the less.

70cm high
70cm wide
