REF: 1881

Description

Large vintage natural history art of butterfly and moth wings. This one is particularly large and must feature thousands of individual wings intricately laid out to create this kaleidoscope pattern. The frame suits this piece well as the colours fit in nicely with the art its self and it has a faux black marble internal trim to which breaks it all up.

The picture has fittings that allow it hang as portrait or landscape

106cm wide

76cm high
